

THIS IS ONLY A TEST.

Siren Test
Thursday,
September 9,
11:00 a.m.

Emergency sirens in Beaver, Columbiana and Hancock counties will be tested on Thursday, September 9, at approximately 11:00 a.m.

The test – a steady, three-minute siren tone – will include the large pole-mounted sirens. This test is performed as a federal requirement to ensure the sirens in the ten-mile radius around Beaver Valley Power Station are working properly.

If you hear the siren on September 9, at 11:00 a.m., you do not need to respond.

The alert signal being tested would be sounded by your county emergency management agency in case of an emergency at Beaver Valley Power Station.

If there is an actual emergency during the testing period, or at any other time, the alert signal will be sounded and information will be broadcast on the local Emergency Alert System (formerly the Emergency Broadcast System) stations listed below.

Emergency Preparedness Information is located on the County websites

Siren Notification System

Each large, pole-mounted emergency siren is equipped with different signals. Two of these are the Alert Signal and Fire Signal.

ALERT SIGNAL: A steady tone for three minutes. If the Alert Signal sounds, immediately tune your radio or TV to your Emergency Alert System station for information and instructions.

FIRE SIGNAL: A 20 second steady alert tone, repeated as necessary. The Fire Signal is used to alert firefighters. No response is necessary from the general public.
